IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Home of Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith Scene of Daughter's Marriage.

Minister of Norway Leaves for Season—Luncheon for Mrs. Lansing. Marriages and Other Items.

The proper official phase was given the marriage of Miss Callie Smith, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith of Georgia, and Mr. J. Lyman Grant Pratt, which took place at noon today, by the presence at the breakfast of the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. McAdoo, the Attorney General and Mrs. Gregory and other members of the cabinet, of the Senate, the House and other branches of officialdom, all of them the more intimate friends of the family.

The ceremony was performed at 12 o'clock, high noon, by Rev. Father E. L. Buckley of St. Matthew's Church, with a large company of relatives and intimate friends present. The drawing rooms, reception hall, dining room and other parts of the house were profusely decorated with pink and white flowers, but there was no special arrangement, such as is generally used at home weddings, and there was no wedding march included in the program of music for the event.

Just as little ceremony attended the arrangements for the wedding service as possible, and the only attendant was Mr. David Tait of Washington, who was best man for Mr. Pratt.

The bride wore a modish gown of white, with a large white hat instead of a wedding veil, and carried a cluster of white spring blossoms.

Following the ceremony, Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith and Mrs. Le Gage Pratt, mother of the bridegroom, received with the newly married couple.

When Mr. and Mrs. Pratt left Washington for their honeymoon trip this afternoon the latter wore a strikingly stylish gown of dark blue gabardine with a hat to correspond. They will make their home in New Jersey.

Among the out-of-town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith and Mr. Ronald Ransom of Atlanta, and Lieut. and Mrs. Alston R. Simpson of Annapolis, relatives of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hull Pickering and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Seibold and Mr. Lloyd Seibold of New York; Mr. and Mrs. James Frank Pratt of Pratt Junction, Mass., uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Julian Heath and her son, Mr. Julian Heath of New York, and Mr. George William McClellan of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the Secretary of War, had a few calls yesterday afternoon at her suburban home in the Woods, receiving informally on the veranda.

Judge and Mrs. C. C. McChord entertained in an interesting way at the New Willard yesterday asking a number of friends to watch the prepared parade from their windows.

In the party were Mr. Justice and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Mme. de Zaldivar, wife of the minister from Salvador, Mrs. James R. Mann, and Mrs. Rufus Day and others, all of whom were entertained at luncheon.

An interesting wedding will take place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the ballroom at the Shoreham, when Mrs. Eloise Cissell Harden, daughter of Mrs. S. Sewall Cissell, and Mr. Thomas Philip Bonnes will be married in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends by the Rev. W. R. Wedderburn.

Mrs. Clarence Dodge will attend the bride as matron of honor, and Mr. Clarence Dodge will be the best man. An informal reception for the guests present at the ceremony will follow, and later Mr. Bonnes and his bride will leave for their wedding trip.

A farewell bachelor dinner was given last night at the Columbia Country Club in honor of Mr. Thomas P. Bonnes.

Father Conroy of West Point, N. Y., officiating.

The bride, who is widely known in this city, where she spent the past winter with her sister, Mrs. Eric St. Clair Purdon, was charming in her gown of white satin, with an overdress of tulle. She wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Polly Palmer was the bride's only attendant, and she wore lavender tulle and carried a bouquet of lavender sweetpeas.

Lieut. Hasting, U. S. A., a classmate of the bridegroom, acted as best man. A reception followed for relatives and intimate friends present at the ceremony.

Lieut. and Mrs. Cabell left later for their wedding trip. Lieut. Cabell, who graduated Tuesday at West Point, is the son of Col. De Rosey Carroll Cabell, 10th Cavalry, U. S. A.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Taylor and Mr. Robert Courtney Hilliard of Minneapolis, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock last evening by the Rev. Father E. L. Buckley of St. Matthew's Church, was an exceedingly pretty affair.

The profusion of flowers used, principally lilies and roses, was suggestive of the youth of the bride couple. The white satin prie dieu before which the ceremony was performed was in the bay window and on either side of it were tall standards of lilies. Dorothy Perkins roses formed a bower at the back of the improvised altar.

The costume of the bride was particularly handsome, the skirt of tulle, short and bouffant, was the foundation for a court train of white satin embroidered in pearls. A bertha of rose point lace formed a cape effect over the bodice of tulle and satin, the latter material showing a pattern of orange blossoms embroidered in tulle. The bertha had the soft touch of age, as it was worn by the bride's great-grandmother on her wedding day. In keeping with the old lace were the jewels, a pendant, brooch and earrings of opals and diamonds worn by the grandmother and the mother of the bride with their wedding robes, being the grandfather's gift to his bride. A coronet of orange blossoms held the long tulle veil, and a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley completed the costume.

Miss May Taylor, the young sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and wore a youthful gown of pink organdy over pink tulle, the bouffant draperies caught with clusters of tiny pink rosebuds. A bertha effect of white lace was finished where it crossed in front by a cluster of the buds, and short puffed sleeves added a quaint touch to the costume, which had as a finishing touch a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Taylor wore a handsome gown of orchid satin and silver lace, and short lace scarf forming part of the bodice.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard left for their wedding journey the bride wore a gown of dark blue gabardine, the blue hat having a wreath of ostrich feathers bordering the brim. Mr. Hilliard wore a tuxedo, and his bride will take his bride to Minneapolis to live.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Hilliard and Miss Marian Hilliard, the bridegroom's parents and sister, all of Minneapolis; Mr. Thomas W. Sidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Virginia Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Crenshaw, all of Richmond, Va.

An old employer, who has been in the service of the family for over forty-five years, came to Washington from Virginia for the wedding, it being her first visit to the Capital city.
